The Asia and Pacific Bibliography series will continue as part of the Exchange Bibliography series issued by the Council of Planning Librarians. The response to the first two numbers of the bibliography was very gratifying. However, the growth of the mailing list resulted in an operation which we were not staffed to handle. We believe that the Council of Planning Librarians are better equipped to publish and distribute it.

In response to users of the bibliography, we have rearranged and enlarged the subject classifications. We have also added a geographical index and an author index. We have tried to include more unpublished materials, dissertations, and government publications as well as monographs and journal articles. Australian publications are no longer included since they are well indexed in other publications. The bibliography is still designed to alert planners, researchers, faculty and other students to studies and publications relating to urban and regional planning in Asia and the Pacific.

The bibliography continues to be a cooperative project between the Pacific Urban Studies and Planning Program and the University of Hawaii Library. We plan to issue two numbers a year. A few issues of numbers 1 & 2 are still available from the Social Science Reference Department, University of Hawaii Library. We are considering issuing a volume cumulating number 1-4 should there be sufficient interest. Suggestions and comments on the bibliography will continue to be welcomed.
